Leave a Legacy to Benefit your Nelson County Neighbors

Many donors who have been philanthropic in their lifetimes are interested in continuing their giving beyond their lifetimes. An easy and simple way to support Nelson County and the issues you care about is by bequeathing all or a portion of your estate to the Nelson County Community Fund (NCCF) through your will. Your bequest will allow you to make an impact in perpetuity.

Working with your attorney, you can add simple bequest language to your will to support either NCCF's unrestricted or endowment fund. NCCF's unrestricted fund responds to the ever-changing needs in Nelson County by awarding grants to non-profit organizations that work to improve the quality of life of Nelson County residents.

Sample Bequest Language for an Unrestricted Gift

[I give, bequeath, and devise %, or $____, or the rest and residue of my estate to] Nelson County Community Fund, an all-volunteer, committee-advised fund of Charlottesville Area Community Foundation, a Virginia non-stock corporation authorized by its charter and bylaws to accept, hold and administer charitable funds, and to be administered pursuant to the policies of the Charlottesville Area Community Foundation.

An Alternative to changing your will

Rather than changing your will, an alternative can be to include a request to your Executor that (s)he consider a donation to the NCCF in your name. It might read:

"Dear _____,

Nelson County and its residents have been important to me and I hope you will consider a tax-deductible gift of $_____ (or whatever you wish) to the Nelson County Community Fund after my estate is settled."
